

Power, Society, and the Senses: A Workshop

Friday, March 6: Caucus Room 2, Arizona State Senate

8:30 a.m.: [for those staying in the hotel] Leave Tempe Mission Palms for AZ Senate

9:30: Plenary Speaker: David Howes (Concordia University)—“The Senses at the National Gallery: Art as Sensory Recreation and Regulation in Victorian England” [Moderator: Richard Newhauser (ASU)]

10:30: Panel 1: Moderator: Chris Carlsen (ASU)

Toby Harper (ASU)—“Luxury, the Senses, and Politics in 1930s London Seen through the Diaries of Sydney Walton”

Keith Miller (ASU)—“Sensory Experience as the Basis of Protest: Martin Luther King and Charles Billups in the Crucible of Birmingham, 1963”

11:30: Lunch (delivered for speakers and assistants, or on your own)—Catered by Green New American Vegetarian/Nami

1:30 p.m.: Welcome Address: Matt Salmon (ASU). [Introduction: Richard Newhauser (ASU)]

1:40: Plenary Speaker: Davide Panagia (UCLA)—“The Political Theory of Empiricist Criticism” [Moderator: Toby Harper (ASU)]

2:30: Panel 2: Moderator: Toby Harper (ASU)

José Filipe Pereira da Silva (University of Helsinki)—“The Power of Perception”

Edward Wheatley (Loyola University, Chicago)—“The Politics of the Senses: What Disability Studies Can Contribute”

3:30: Coffee and pastry—Catered by Green New American Vegetarian/Nami

4:00: Plenary Speaker: Athena Salman (AZ House of Representatives)—“The Senses and Ideological Framing” [Moderator: Richard Newhauser (ASU)]

5:00: First Friday in Phoenix

7:00: Dinner (for speakers and assistants)—Chico Malo, 50 W Jefferson St, Phoenix 85003

Saturday, March 7: Lattie F. Coor Hall 4403, ASU-Tempe

9:00 a.m.: [for those staying in the hotel] Leave Tempe Mission Palms, walk to Coor Hall

9:30: Panel 3: Moderator: Christy Spackman (ASU)

Katie Walter (University of Sussex)—“The Laborer’s Feet”

Aimée Boutin (Florida State University)—“Shrill Voices on the Street: Gender, Power, and Sound in Nineteenth-Century Paris”

Richard Newhauser (ASU)—“Sensory Control and State Formation”

11:00: Coffee

11:30: Panel 4: Moderator: Richard Newhauser (ASU)

Annette Kern-Staehler (Universitaet Bern)—“Sensing Sin: Surveillance in Medieval Monastic Houses”

Arthur Russell (Case Western Reserve University)—“Walking Liu Wei’s Invisible Cities: Politics / Pattern / Perception in a Decolonizing Mode”

12:30 p.m.: Lunch (delivered for speakers and assistants, or on your own)

1:30: Wrap-up Session

2:30: Travel to Heard Museum

3:00: Heard Museum visit: 2301 N Central Ave, Phoenix 85004

5:00: Free time

7:00: Dinner (for speakers and assistants): Caffe Boa, 398 S Mill Ave, Tempe 85281

The Workshop is organized by Toby Harper (School of Historical, Philosophical and Religious Studies, ASU) and Richard Newhauser (Department of English, ASU).

Technical and media support by Bruce Matsunaga and program design by Kristen LaRue-Sandler (both Department of English, ASU).

Thanks to Sonia Rodriguez, Assistant to Athena Salman (AZ House of Representatives); Robert Nolan, Assistant to Juan Mendez (AZ Senate); Rachel Emling (Department of English, ASU); Valeria Cabello (Institute for Humanities Research, ASU).

Sponsored by The Institute for Humanities Research at ASU-Tempe; and generous support from the following units in The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences: Department of English; Dean of Humanities; History Faculty in the School for Historical, Philosophical and Religious Studies; Arizona Center for Medieval and Renaissance Studies; and School of International Letters and Cultures.

